It's your year to fly ... via Thunderbird '67

Long on looks! Take off with the sleek, classic two-door above . . . or the debonair, first four-door Thunderbird ever. Both are long on power with the standard 390 cubic inch V-8. Or choose the 428—our velvet brute. Long on sophisticated engineering: a SelectShift automatic works manually, too; front power disc brakes halt those cubic inches with authority; a Tilt-Away steering wheel moves obligingly out of your way when you open the door. The beautiful Bird is longest of all on luxury: the wrap-around sound of Stereo Tape, the Convenience Control panel that warns when fuel is low, doors are ajar, locks doors automatically. Fly now!

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young characters, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually, the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curley Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

First they talked Curley's employers at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

EARLY DAYS — That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fence or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro-football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight, and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited. This was the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy. Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Eskimos, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A. B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

THE IRON MAN ERA — With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. They repeated in 1930 and 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny Blood, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 to 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD — Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict, and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership, were just about to fold when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. On his first play in professional ball against the Chicago Bears, he took a pass from Arnie Herber and went 94 yards for the only score of the game. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era they always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME — After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Over $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

BLACKBOURN TAKES OVER — The Packers overhauled their front office and coaching staff in 1954, hiring Verne C. Lewellen, all-time Packer great, attorney and business man, as general manager. Reaching into college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the re-building plans and Lisle W. Blackbourn, a native Wisconsinite, and Coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four year Blackbourn regime the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP — Likeable Ray "Scooter" McLean moves up from an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, worst in Packer history in his first season as head coach.

FROM SANDLOT TO STADIUM — Procedures at Packers games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the Pack was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no majorettes, no band and no public address system — the latter hadn't been invented yet. There weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their career in 1919 they played on approximately the same site as now abandoned City Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemeister Park, as it was called, was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about ten yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics for the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectators' halftime suggestion.

In 1920 a section of stands was built

— just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred — on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

When Hagemeister Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemeister Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success, the Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of nearly 6,000. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides between the 30-yard lines. A wooden railing surrounded the rest of the gridiron, along which the Knothole Gang stood or sat on the ground.

Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

One of the first tasks of the stadium builders was the creation of a good playing field, a job admirably done. Whatever antiquated City Stadium may have lacked, one of the best turfs in the country wasn't one of them.

After World War II City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home.

September 29, 1957 was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of nearly 35,000 was dedicated. They served notice on the football world that they intend to support and keep their "Packers" in Green Bay for as far as men can see into the future.

The Packer's have solidified their future in the National Football League by hiring a dedicated football man in alert and imaginative Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager. Lombardi was signed to a five year contract after a wide spread search for the right man to place in complete charge.

In his first year Lombardi led Green Bay from it's worst record in 40 years to it's best finish since 1944 when the Packers won the last six world's championships. He was unanimous choice as coach of the year in his first season as Packer Head Coach.

VINCE LOMBARDI

HEAD COACH AND GENERAL MANAGER

When Vince Lombardi came to Green Bay in January of 1959 he prefaced his arrival with the statement that he was "no miracle man," but within one year he had won a divisional title — Green Bay's first since 1944.

From a 1-10-1 record in 1958, worst in the Club's 40 year history, Lombardi forged a 7-5 season in 1959 and a year later won the Western Division Crown. The World Championship Title followed in 1961, 1962, and again in 1965.

Lombardi played his collegiate football at Fordham University where he was a 185 pound guard and one of the famed Seven Blocks of Granite.

In 1949 he was named assistant to Earl "Red" Blaik at West Point. Lombardi maintains that his experience under Blaik was invaluable.

He left West Point in 1954 to join the New York Giants under Jim Lee Howell as offensive line coach.

In 1959, he came to Green Bay and has since forged a football dynasty that in seven years has produced 106 wins, 31 losses and 3 ties, good for three Championships and one Divisional Title.

With success on the field has come record success at the boxoffice. Once again all seats in Lambeau Field and County Stadium will be sold out in advance.

Midway through last season the Packers announced that they had extended Lombardi's contract through 1973.

PHIL BENGTSON
ASSISTANT COACH

Phil Bengtson was called upon by Vince Lombardi in 1959 to shore up what had been the league's weakest defense. Defense has since become the Packer's strong suit.

In 1964, the Packers allowed the opposition only 227 yards per game, ranking first in the League. In 1965, the Packers dropped to third in the League (4.1 ave.), but led the League in interceptions, touchdowns allowed (22), opponents points allowed (224) and passing yardage (1981). As a tribute, 4 defensive players were named All-Pro and a 5th to the Pro-Bowl team.

Bengtson was an All-American tackle with the University of Minnesota and coached at the University of Missouri.

After 4 years in the Navy, Phil joined the Stanford coaching staff, and in 1951 joined the 49'ers.

RED COCHRAN
ASSISTANT COACH

Red Cochran is the offensive backfield coach. In the last five years, Red's backs have won 3 League rushing titles. (Last year they finished 10th with 1,488 yards).

This is Cochran's 11th year of coaching in the NFL, handling the Lions' backfield in 1956-1958, before being called by Lombardi in 1959.

Red was a two sport star at Wake Forest and chose to sign with the Chicago Cardinals in 1946. He played on the Cards' 1947 NFL Title team as a running back.

Cochran joined the collegiate coaching ranks in 1950 as backfield coach at Wake Forest and remained there until 1955 when he joined the Detroit Lions. This season he will have the pleasant task of working with one of the Packers most talented backfields in history.

DAVE HANNER
ASSISTANT COACH

Last year the "granddaddy" of the Packers switched from player to coach, after 13 active seasons with Green Bay.

Dave is in charge of the defensive front four.

In his thirteen seasons as a defensive tackle, Hanner was named to the All-Pro team five times and played in two Pro-Bowl games.

Dave hails from Parkin, Arkansas, and played his collegiate football at the University of Arkansas, where he was twice named to the All-Southwest Conference Team. Drafted fifth in 1952, Dave has been through lean years, as well as playing on 3 divisional title teams and two NFL Champion squads in 1961 and 1962.

Before becoming a coach, Dave spent the off-season working in his native Arkansas as a soil conservationist, but now is living in Green Bay year round.

JERRY BURNS
ASSISTANT COACH

Jerry Burns joined the Packers in February of 1965 and will take over as coach of the Packers secondary.

Burns has served as the Head Coach at the University of Iowa the last five seasons. Prior to this, he had served as Freshman Coach, and Backfield Coach (1959) at Iowa.

At the University of Michigan, Burns quarterbacked the Wolverines to the Big Ten Title in 1950 and a Rose Bowl victory.

In 1951 he served as assistant coach at the University of Hawaii and backfield coach of Whittier College in California in 1952. 1953 saw him move to St. Mary's of Redford High in Detroit where he was named "Coach of the Year" in the Detroit area.

RAY WIETecha ASSISTANT COACH

In his second year with the Packers is Ray Wietcha, one of the most durable performers in the NFL during his 10 year career with the New York Giants.

Ray played in 133 consecutive games with the Giants and was rated as one of the best offensive blockers in the League. He was named to the All-Pro Team five times, and in 1963 joined the Los Angeles Rams as Offensive Line Coach.

Wietcha replaced Bill Austin, who is now the head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

At Northwestern, Ray was an All-Big Ten Center before being drafted by the Giants in 1953. After graduation he had a brief trial in baseball before taking to football for a career.

BOB SCHNELKER ASSISTANT COACH

While Bob Schnelker is a new comer to the Packers, he is a well known NFL performer as well as a coach.

Bob graduated from Bowling Green University and was drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 1953. He and Coach Lombardi were with the Giants from 1954-1959. Bob appeared in the Pro-Bowl twice, enjoying his best season in 1959 with the Giants.

In 1963 he joined the Los Angeles Rams coaching staff and has been instrumental in the development of the fine Rams receivers.

This last February he joined the Packers where he will also be working with the receivers.

PAT PEPPLER

PLAYER PERSONNEL

The enormous task of sifting and winnowing pro prospects from the collegiate ranks belongs to Pat Peppler, personnel director of the Packers.

Peppler joined Lombardi's front office staff in 1963, replacing Dick Voris who accepted a coaching job with the San Francisco 49ers. A three sport star at Shorewood (Wis.) High School, Peppler went to Michigan State where he lettered in basketball and baseball. He was graduated in 1948.

Peppler then began a successful high school coaching career at East Lansing, winning a state football championship before entering the college coaching ranks. He was on the North Carolina staff for eight years, working with the centers and line backers. In 1962 he went to work for Wake Forest.

NINE TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers now lead the National League in most Championships won with nine. The Packers won three by League standing (1929, 1930, 1931) and six times (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962 and 1965) since the play-off system was established in 1933.

The Chicago Bears are next with eight Championships having won twice before 1933 (1921, 1932) and since 1933 (1937, 1940, 1941, 1943, 1946 and 1963).

The Giants and Lions have won four each and in order, the Browns 4, Eagles 3, Washington Redskins 2, Colts 2 and with one each are the Cleveland Rams, Chicago Cardinals and Los Angeles Rams.

Bridesmaid honors would have to go to the New York Giants who appeared in the play-offs 13 times and lost 10. The Chicago Bears and Washington Redskins each lost 4 times and Cleveland Browns lost 5 times in play-offs.

Green Bay's only two losses were in 1938 when they lost to the Giants, 23-17 at New York and in 1960 to the Eagles by the score of 17-13 at Philadelphia. (Playoff scores on P. 59)

There are three all-new ways to answer the call of Mustang. Start with the hardtop, fastback or convertible. All longer, wider, sportier. (Standard features galore include bucket seats, floor-mounted shift, Ford Motor Company Lifeguard-Design safety features.) You take over from there with options like new Tilt-Away steering wheel, front power disc brakes, SelectShift automatic transmission that also works manually, V-8's up to 390 cu. in., Stereo-Sonic Tape System. Mustang's call may be loud and clear but the cost is only a whisper. Listening?

'67 MUSTANG
Bred first...to be first

In April, Norma Wick's kitchen was sunburst yellow  in May apple red  in September spring green.

But for the past six years her cars have been Ford, Ford, Ford. Why? Because her Fords stayed strong, quiet and out of trouble. It's a trend. Ford owners are coming back for more Fords in record-breaking numbers. Norma's '67 is the best yet—the strongest, quietest Ford ever built. It has a stereo tape player, automatic speed control, front power disc brakes. (And you get a choice of 15 colors.)
